The Medicine that Cures
—IS—VEGETINE.
Taking into consideration the character of its vouchers, the history of its cures and the immense increasing demand, VEGETINE may be fairly entitled the leading medicine of the age.
For scrofula in the blood, VEGETINE is an infallible remedy, and no person need suffer from tumors, ulcers, and all diseases arising from impure blood, if VEGETINE is used according to directions. There is not a case of scrofula in existence that VEGETINE will not cure, provided, however, the vital functions have not lost their power of action, all that may be said to the contrary notwithstanding.
VEGETINE is pleasant to the taste, mild in its influence, and absolute in its action on disease, as the following unquestionable evidence will show.

PAID NEARLY
JANUARY 2, 1870.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq:
Dear Sir: When about six months old I was vaccinated. The parties who were vaccinated from the same virus died from the humor. The humor spread over me to such an extent that I was rolled in bran to prevent me from scratching my person. The disease finally settled in my head. I remained in this condition about twenty years, troubled all the time with sores breaking in my head and discharging corruption from my ear. At this time a small kernel appeared on my neck, gradually increasing in size until a tumor formed of such immense size I could see it by turning my eyes downward. All this time I was taking various remedies for my blood without any substantial benefit.
I then went to a prominent physician in Boston, who, during his treatment of six months, lanced the tumor eight times, which cost me nearly $100. This left me with a rough, aggravated sore, without at all diminishing the size of the tumor, and in a sickly, feeble condition. I consulted another physician in Natick, who, after considerable time, succeeded in healing the sore without reducing the size. At this point I commenced to use VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of a friend. After I had taken this medicine about one week I experienced wonderful sensations. My whole body seemed to be undergoing a radical change, until, finally, the tumor broke and discharged frightful quantities. From this time it decreased in size until the bunch disappeared, but my neck still bears the ugly scars of the sore and the lance. I am now healthy and strong and able to work every day.
I will also mention that I have been an acute sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism ever since I can remember, until commencing the use of VEGETINE, when almost immediately all rheumatic pains ceased. This statement I volunteer for the purpose of benefiting other suffering humanity; and you will confer a favor by giving it as much publicity as thought proper. Very gratefully,
O. M. SAVELS, Ashland, Mass.

What is Vegetine?
It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is nature's remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you a good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it, it has cured me."

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.
BOSTON, Jan. 1, 1874.
Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have sold at retail 1543¼ dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given me best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity. Very respectfully yours,
A. J. GILMAN, 403 Broadway.

RHODE ISLAND MANUFACTURING.

CHARLES NORDHOFF'S VIEWS REGARDING IT. —ADVANTAGES OF RHODE ISLAND OPERATIVES.—SAVING BANKS DEPOSITS.—PAUPERS.—PRICES AND WAGES.—A PROMISING FUTURE.—SUPERIORITY OF AMERICAN GOODS.

Charles Nordhoff, the eminent journalist, has visited the manufacturing regions of Fall River and Providence, and has given the result of his observations in letters to the New York Herald, from which we make the following extracts:

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 12, 1875.

During the recent Fall River strike the management of the mill-owners of Rhode Island became a subject of controversy, and some harsh accusation were made against them of tyrannical conduct toward their operatives. That, among the owners and managers of cotton mills, there should be found men of a mean and tyrannical, and, perhaps, even a cruel disposition, is not improbable. The manager of a large factory has, necessarily, great power over the working people, and whenever men have great power, they are likely to abuse it if they dare. Whether such abuses, are more common in Rhode Island than elsewhere, I am not capable of deciding, for to do so I should have first to make an investigation, which would require many months. Those, however, who assert that the operatives of Rhode Island are "no better than slaves," seem to me to accuse, not so much the mill owners as the operatives themselves. No man is a slave who has the right of migration secured to him, unless he lacks the spirit of a man, the courage and endurance which all of us need in the struggle of life. The Fall River striker who refuses other work and remains in Fall River consuming his savings is an unreasonable creature, but he is not a slave. If he chooses to be improvident, and if his improvidence brings him to want, and if want thus brought on compels him by and by to accept distasteful terms, proposed to him by his former employers, it seems to me he is in fault, but he is by no means a slave. In the same way if anywhere in Rhode Island or elsewhere in New England the factory operative is uncomfortable and submits to permanent discomfort or wrong, he has himself to blame. He cannot be called "a slave," for he has the right to go elsewhere and do something else. It may be difficult for him to do this at the precise moment when he becomes dissatisfied; but in this his case is no worse than that of millions of his fellow citizens, who, if they are sensible people, toil and economize until they have saved enough to enable them to migrate or change their employment, and until they see an opportunity to do so.

THE RHODE ISLAND COTTON MILLS.

In general the operative in a cotton mill in Rhode Island has what seems to me one advantage; the mill owner is usually accessible to him; he can reach him with complaints and remonstrances. He does not serve a stock company, but individuals, who, in the majority of cases, live near the mill and exercise more or less oversight over its management. It is the custom, too, here, as elsewhere in New England, for the mill-owners to build upon their own property houses for the occupation of the operatives, which are let to these at what is acknowledged to be a low rental. In the newer establishments these houses are usually very comfortable and much better than could be obtained elsewhere at the same rental. In some of the older establishments the houses are not as good; but the tendency is to build better.

FIGURES FROM THE CENSUS OF 1875.

The census of Rhode Island has just been completed, and fortunately under the supervision of an uncommonly intelligent statistician, Dr. Snow, of Providence. Some facts and figures which I have taken from the as yet unpublished tables tell the general condition of Rhode Island in an instructive and, to me, extremely interesting way. For instance—With a population of 258,239 souls, Rhode Island has, in this year of hard times, only 480 paupers, an increase of 36 over the year 1873. Providence, with over 100,000 people, has but 95 paupers: Woonsocket, with 13,576 people, has but 8; Pawtucket, with 18,861, has but 6; Lincoln, with 11,565, has but 5; Cumberland, with 11,614, has only 7. Burrillville, a seat of the greatly depressed woolen manufacture, with 5,249 people, has 9 paupers: Westerly, with 5,408 people, has but 1.

The state contains 55,215 families and 48,875 dwelling houses, of which only 1,363, many of them farm houses, stood empty when the census was taken. You will notice that for the whole state the average is less than one family and a half to the dwelling. In Providence the average is higher, but still only 1.62-100 to the dwelling. This shows a fair degree of comfort among the population of the state. The returns of the savings banks confirm it and surprised me.

THE SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITS.

In December, 1872, the total amount of deposits in thirty-six savings banks was $12,583,538; an increase during the year of $6,293,000. There were at that time 88,661 depositors, of whom 11,670 had over $1,000 each, leaving 76,991 depositors of less than $1,000 each. In December, 1873, thirty-seven savings banks had $16,617,183 deposits and 93,121 depositors, of whom 13,106 had over $1,000, and 14,653 over $500 and under $1,000. In round numbers the depositors of amounts under $1,000 had increased during the year by 3,000, and there were 65,365 depositors of less than $500. The increase in deposit in this year—1873-3—was only $4,033,611. This was a year of hard times, but the increase was still handsomely above the mere addition of six per cent. interest to the amount of the previous year. In December, 1874, the total deposits were $18,771,501, and the depositors 89,359, of which 13,521 had over $1000; 11,881 over $500 and under $1,000 and 69,951 depositors had less than $500 each. That is to say during the year 1874, the depositors of over $1000 had slightly increased by 115—namely the depositors of between $500 and $1,000 had also slightly increased by 231, and the depositors having less than $500, the greater number of whom are probably mechanics, laborers and servants, had increased by 4,591. In this last year the savings banks deposits of the state amounted to an average of over $195 to each depositor and to over $188 per head of the total population of the state.

I am aware that such figures as these from the savings banks returns have but an indefinite value, but put together with the small pauper population and the absence of strikes, of which there have been none, or almost none, during the year, and the considerable increase of depositors of less than $500 each, it looks as though there could be but little absolute want and suffering in the state. Most of the mills, in fact, are at work, and the factory population, which consists largely of French Canadians and Irish, is earning wages, and at rates of pay which enable at least the unmarried to lay by money. If they wish to. Many of the mills keep stores, and in running over hastily a number of "pay envelopes" which I found in a manufacturer's counting-room, I noticed that not a few of the operatives trade out the greater part of their pay. I am told that they are not generally provident; and this is probably true of the factory population everywhere. In some of the towns there are cooperative stores, and here and there one hears of "sovereigns of industry," societies whose object is to buy at wholesale, through an approved agent, and thus save the profit of the middleman. I am told they flourish and are successful.

The necessary expenses of an operative consist, of course, of three elements—shelter, food and clothing. Under the factory house system in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, house rent is usually no higher now than before the war, where the house is owned by the company. The owners purposely keep down rents. Houses off the mill lands—as at Fall River—cost more, because they come under the general law of competition. Food is, except in the article of meat, nearly as cheap now as before the war. Clothing is cheaper just now. I am told that the relation of prices to wages enables unmarried women to lay by more now than before the war; but families do not do quite as well, there being still a difference against them in the cost of food. It was remarked to me by several persons that the factory population had—in common with the rest

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1875.

THE DAY.

Ten persons were killed and one hundred injured by the explosion of fire damp in a colliery at Serning, Belgium, yesterday.

Vice President Wilson passed the most of the day yesterday in sleep, which greatly refreshed and invigorated him. Dr. Baxter, his attending physician, now pronounces him entirely out of danger, and predicts a speedy convalesence.

Neal O'Haley, quartermaster of the lost steamer Pacific, was rescued by the revenue cutter Oliver Wolcot on the 7th instant, and has arrived at Neah Bay, Washington Territory. He makes a statement of the terrible sufferings endured by himself and several others, besides relating many fresh facts relative to the loss of the ill-fated vessel.

NOT GUILTY.

Marshal Simmons has been very unjustly denounced for his connection with the Salter robbery of Sunday night. It is not true that he wished to compromise the case. He gave his whole attention to the matter, examined Salter at length, and consulted freely with the city solicitor, and acted throughout on the advice of that officer. Farthermore he was anxious to prosecute the three men who were arrested and rather urged the city solicitor to allow him to proceed, and kept the men at the station house as long as the law allowed him to do it. Mr. Peckham had a long interview with Salter and questioned him closely regarding the affair of Sunday night and then advised Mr. Simmons that the service of warrants would probably be useless, or worse, as there was little prospect of getting convictions. Under these circumstances the marshal held the prisoners as long as he could and then discharged them. Capt. Hammond and Mr. Salter agree with the city solicitor in exonerating the marshal from the charge of entertaining for a moment any proposition looking to a compounding of the felony. The following is Mr. Salter's letter:—

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

I beg to state in reply to a letter which appeared in your paper signed "Citizen" that most unqualified misstatements were made in it. I can only state that the city marshal gave me the best possible advice in reference to the prosecuting of the parties who assaulted and robbed me on Sunday night last, and I deem it right, in justice to the police authorities, to say that they have rendered me every possible assistance in this matter. I went with the marshal to the city solicitor who told us that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a prosecution, and that was the reason, as I am informed, that the men were discharged.

THOMAS W. C. SALTER.

A LETTER FROM AHAB.

To the Editor of the Daily News—

It is with feelings of sadness that I find myself absent from your beautiful city by the sea; the home for the weary; the resting place of some few thousands, besides those who are sleeping peacefully in the various cemeteries of your island.

I am at present staying at the St. Denis Hotel, corner of Broadway and 11th street N. Y. This charmingly situated building has been completely renovated and tastefully adorned at an expense of not less than one hundred dollars. Its restaurant is now one of the features of the city, and is kept on the European plan. All that the heart can desire in the way of clean linen, good beds, devoted attention and regal fare can be obtained at the shortest notice. Messrs. Taylor & Gibson have taken the lease. The former has been well known for many years as the proprietor of "Taylor's Saloon" on Broadway. Mr. Gibson has been a most successful hotel keeper for twenty years. No man understands his business better. I have penned these few lines about this hotel because I deem it a duty to speak well of an undertaking when I see it carried out in a first class manner—no nondescripts or loungers being admitted.

One of the peculiar creations of the present day is the frantic desire to become acquainted with people's opinions regarding the Presidential incumbent of the future. I had hardly left the cars before I found myself in the midst of a crowd eagerly discussing the subject. I had not time to stop; but merely said in a clear voice "I am a 'third term' man!" I am happy to say that though the party were not unanimous many persons cried out "that's so."

I was often asked by enthusiastic car drivers "Are you Tammany or anti-Tammany?"

I of course replied "anti-Tammany by all means" and many listeners seemed pleased with my answer.

The following deeply intellectual dialogue carries its own conviction with it. A tall, thin skinned, single toothed, lantern jawed, tobacco chewing, American citizen thus addressed me:—

"Sir, this country must be saved."

Answer: "Most certainly, sir."

Citizen: "It will sir—it will."

Ans: "Will it?"

Citizen: "Will what sir?"

Ans: "Will it, sir?"

Citizen: Eyeing me suspiciously, "I say sir, that this country must and shall be saved."

Ans: "How sir?"

Citizen: "By the honesty of the people: the great principles of civil and religious liberty: the great purity of American mothers; and by the grace of God sir."

Ans: "Sir, I honor you agree with you and will smoke with you a mild Havana if you will accept one from a stranger?"

Citizen: "I accept sir: It is lighted. How calm and peaceful all seems now."

Ans: "Let all fretful, fighting men, before giving loose to their passions, first take a puff of the "weed" and there will be peace in the land."

Citizen: "Even so, but nothing will do if you desert Grant's ideas—they are sound. Read his speech in which he gives his views of the future and believe it sir, for every word is true."

Should any desire to see a very "high church" they can do so by going to morning service at "St. Mary's the Virgin" Protestant Episcopat 228 West Forty-fifth street. There they will have unfolded to their astonished vision the "genuflexions and gyrations of pantomimic theology." I cannot approve of all that is done; but there is no doubt that the senses are charmed by the services. As to whether the heart is made better and drawn nearer to its Creator I leave to critics of an ecclesiastical turn of mind.

Before closing I will add that putty is calm, tallow steady, ice cool, cheese moving, roosters crowing, widows watching, mosquitoes dying, politicals scheming, Kelly sinking, Hacket rising; the Tammany goose hanging very low; and, from all I know, as it is now 2 A. M., good, honest, open-hearted Postmaster T. C. "dreaming dreams no mortal ever dared to dream before." Example; new Public school, four stories high on the Hanging Rocks, so as to catch the inspiration of Berkeley's muse.

Yours Metropolitanically Epaminondas, Leonidas, Napoleon Ahab.

DOUGLASS AND THE WHISKEY RING.

THE EX-COMMISSIONER EXPLAINS THE PLAN HE WAS NOT ALLOWED TO CARRY OUT.

Ex-Commissioner Douglass says in reference to the recently published correspondence between himself and a St. Louis lawyer, concerning the means used to expose the whiskey frauds in that city, that while it is true as far as it goes, it is not the whole truth. Months before this correspondence he became satisfied that the most efficient way to detect the suspected frauds was to change the supervising and special officers, and the suggestion was made to and approved by the President. The most persistent efforts had been made to detect the frauds, some of the best men in the secret service, among them the famous Brooks, having been sent for the purpose. At one time three special agents, Yarnau, Brashear and Gavett, were in St. Louis together working to this end, but all without success. On the strength of the St. Louis lawyer's representations, he procured the services of a customs agent (Hinds) a man unknown to the distillers, and despatched him to St. Louis with the greatest secrecy, instructed to obtain all the evidence which the lawyer could afford, and work the case up. Hinds reported on his return to the commissioner that the lawyer gave him no tangible clew, that his information consisted of rumors, and, in short, that he (the agent) had found out nothing. This result convinced the commissioner that nothing would accomplish the object but a change of officers, and this was virtually decided upon then; although on account of the political pressure sure to follow the execution of the plan, it was put off until after the Fall elections, and the succeeding elections of United States Senators by several legislatures. The main point was to remove Supervisor McDonald and Special Agent Joyce from St. Louis, and send there Supervisor Sutton and Special Agents Brooks and Mitchell from Philadelphia, in whom the commissioner had implicit confidence. It was believed that with incorruptible officers at St. Louis one of three things must happen,—either the distillers would stop production or the tax receipts would largely increase, each proving previous fraud, or the frauds would be detected in the usual way. In order to disguise the object of the move the change of supervisors was made general, and had not the President yielded to the pressure which followed and countermanded the order, the exposure of the ring would, it seems to Mr. Douglass, have been certain and speedy. The commissioner's correspondent says in one of his letters that Hinds told him that he (Hinds) was expected to return from St. Louis in one day, which would give him but two or three days there. Mr. Douglass gave no such instructions to Hinds, and his intention was that he should take all the time he needed.—[Special Despatch to the Boston Advertiser.

THE FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.—The Washington correspondence of the New York World gives some interesting details of the preparations for the XLIVth Congress, which comes together in four weeks. Already the season may be said to have fairly opened. The capital has shaken off its Summer lethargy, the hotels are filling up, and the demand for houses is almost unprecedented. These signs of the coming rush are mainly attributable to the political change of one branch of Congress, to the promised activity of the centennial year, and to the Presidential campaign of 1876. The Senate and House halls are being placed in order, and the President's, Vice-President's and speaker's rooms are receiving unusual adornment, that they may be attractive not only to the officials who occupy them, but to the thousands who will visit them the coming season. The interest in the new Congress, of course, centres in the organization of the House of Representatives. It will be eighteen years since a Democratic Speaker has been elected, and in that interval the Republican party has controlled the House for nine consecutive Congresses. Of the 292 members of the next House, the Democrats have 178, the Republicans 108, and the Independents 6. Of the various candidates for the Speakership, Kerr, of Indiana: Randall of Pennsylvania; Cox and Wood of New York; Sayler of Ohio; Holman of Indiana; and Lamar of Mississippi; were members of preceding Congresses, while Payne of Ohio and Walker of Virginia, are new members. The relative strength of the various candidates is variously estimated, and by the first week in December figures alone may be brought into requisition for the first time to show who is ahead. Those Democratic members who have visited Washington express their desire to vote for a candidate whose record as a Democrat is free from local and "entangling alliances," and who will reflect the highest honor and credit on his party, and the country. Next to the Speaker the clerk is the most important officer of the House, and for this as well as for the minor offices there is no lack of candidates. It is generally conceded, however, that the clerkship will go to the South, which advances no claims to the first position.

ORIGIN OF THE PICNIC.

It is hard to say when this species of entertainment became fashionable, but we have an account of a very distinguished picnic that took place more than two centuries and a quarter ago, on the birthday of Charles, Prince of Wales, afterwards Charles I. Mainwaring, in a letter to the luxurious Earl of Arundel, dated November 22, 1618, says; "The prince his birthday has been solemnized here by the few marquises and lords which found themselves here; and (to supply the want of lords) knights and squires were admitted to a consultation, wherein it was resolved that such a number should meet at Gamlgen, and bring every man his dish of meat. It was left to their own choice what to bring; some chose to be substantial, some curious, some extravagant. Sir George Young's invention bore away the bell; and that was four huge, brawny pigs, piping hot, bitted and harnessed with ropes of sausages, all tied to a monstrous bag pudding."—[Editor's Portfolio, in The Globe.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The northwest gale yesterday afternoon blew about thirty miles an hour.

—Officer Steel arrested Jerry Shay on South Baptist street yesterday.

—No boat arrived from New York this morning, both the boats being at this end of the route.

—The announcement that Mr. Ashhurst was to resign his seat in the General Assembly was premature.

—The family of F. A. Stout of Bellevue avenue leave for their New York residence, 21 East 9th street, today.

—Gen. Humphreys asks in his annual report $30,000 for Fort Adams and $35,000 for Dutch Island.

—The brig Ann Elizabeth, Capt. Burgess, from Fall River for New York, arrived here yesterday with an anchor lost and a small leak sprung.

—Yesterday afternoon the brig George, Capt. Morgan, with a cargo of salt for New Haven, put in here short of provisions and was supplied by J. & L. Coggeshall. The captain reports a long and boisterous passage.

—Repairs on the Brenton reef lightship will be completed and she will be at her old post by the middle of next month. The ship now at the reef is not strong enough for the rough weather of the Winter season.

—New York papers contain long accounts of the suicide of a young woman named Mingee Roane who spent last Summer at the Aquidneck House with T. B. Whitney whose mistress she was, and whose wife she was generally supposed to be. The motive for suicide is difficult to explain.

—The Old Colony, which has been put in complete order for her Winter work, went to Fall River last evening, and will take the place of the Providence, which has been withdrawn for the season, tonight. The latter steamer arrived here from Fall River last evening.

—The Rev. Frederick Upham D. D., formerly pastor of the First and Thames street Methodist Episcopal churches, is in town. The doctor is in his 76th year and has been an effective minister of the gospel for 56 years. He has lost but eight Sundays on account of sickness and still enjoys perfect health.

—The joint special committee of the city council appointed to investigate the charges brought against Officer B. M. Carr met at the city hall last evening and organized. It was voted to hold the investigation at two o'clock this afternoon, and the city clerk was instructed to notify all parties interested to be present.

—The clock on the state house has not struck since Sunday last—unless it has struck for higher wages, which is usually the case when a mechanic ceases to work, and it may be so with mechanism. This clock has had a variety of superintendents, of varied vigilance and correctness, but this year there has been a great improvement in these regards, and we presume there is some good reason why the failure in the striking gear during this week has not been remedied—or perhaps the failure was not known to the supervisor.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

Job T. Langley has sold about 1809 feet of land on the northeasterly side of Callender avenue to John McMahon for $1200.

G. A. Simmons has sold two lots on the north side of Arnold avenue containing 9257 and 4546¼ feet of land respectively, to T. S. Peckham of Middletown for $2669.71.

JUSTICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 12th, 1875.

All the criminal complaints before this court this morning were continued to a week from Tuesday next, on account of the session of the November term of the court of common pleas which begins here on Monday next. There were three complaints as follows:—

State vs. Charles Cotton for assaulting and obstructing Officer Garnett while in the discharge of his duties.

State vs. Joseph McLyman for an assault upon George Dunn.

State vs. Frank Fitzgerald for keeping and maintaining a liquor nuisance.

The two cases of assault are only elements of a series of committals and attempts to commit crimes of this kind against the peace of the community and the safety of individuals which demand immediate and vigilant as well as forcible action on the part of the authorities and the police court, looking to such a discipline and punishment of the roughs who set themselves above the law and independent of it, that they are not living in a community so far removed from civilization and wholesome legal restraints, that the safety of the community and of the individual can only be assured by every person's arming himself with a revolver and constituting himself his own protector and peace officer. It is high time that every ruffian, however brutalized and from whatever cause, should know that he can not assault an innocent and inoffending citizen, simply to give vent to his drukenn brutality, without his suffering in some form and with more or less rigor, the penalty of the law, either by fine or imprisonment. Indeed, it would seem that if anything would justify flogging at the cart's tail, in vogue in olden time, and in use now in some places, this class of crimes would do so. What punishment can be so adequate to that brutality which assaults indiscriminately, innocent women and children at home, and peacable citizens going about their own business in the highways!

ONCE FAITHFUL SENTINEL DETERIORATED.—Private Cassidy at Fort Adams has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment, with a ball and chain attached, for leaving his post while on duty and breaking into the sutler's quarters from which he stole some trifling articles. His absence from his post was detected by an officer on his way from the city to his quarters. A search was made and Cassidy was found leaving the sutler's shop. This is the Cassidy who distinguished himself over a year ago by shooting Private Howard who with two other prisoners tried to escape. Cassidy was the sentinel guarding the three men when Howard knocked him down and tried to take his rifle away. Finding this difficult he gave it up and ran and Cassidy jumped up and shot him dead. Cassidy hasn't kept the law as well as he vindicated it.

☞ The ladies will be pleased to know that they can find their favorite trimming (feather) in this city. Messrs. J. H. Cozzens & Son have made arrangements with the manufacturers to have a full display of those beautiful trimmings on hand at all times. We advise all who are in want of feather trimming to call as their stock in now is full and their prices low.

EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS.—The national bureau of education is an institution that can hardly base a valid claim to the respect of the country upon its importance or necessity, but it has a genius for piling up statistics, and in its mass of figures it occasionally alights upon something of interest. The fifth annual report of the commissioners, just issued, gives a birdseye view of the attitude which different states are taking financially in regard to the educational question. The reports of thirty-seven states and eleven territories show an increase of $1,232,000 in the public school income during the year. Eight millions of pupils are enrolled in the public schools, the average daily attendance being about four and a half millions, while estimated population between six and sixteen years of age is ten and a half millions. The total income of public schools in the states and territories in 1874 was $82,000,000, and the total expenditures $74,000,000. It is interesting to note that the Cherokee Indians paid the highest salaries for school teachers, $225 monthly for males and $200 for female teachers being the regular rates. The District of Columbia averaged $113 and $75 monthly, and Massachusetts $93 and $33. The expenditures in the year per capita were $20 in Massachusetts and $24 in the Cherokee Nation. Who will say the Indians do not appreciate the advantages of civilization and the blessings of enlightenment after this?

AN ANCIENT MEDICAL WORK.—The acquisition of a copy of the earliest medical work extant, the Papyrus Ebers, by the Astor Library, New York, is one that should fill the bibliopholist and the antiquary with a joy that passes understanding. This antique and highly interesting work is decided by the best authority to be more than 3400 years old, or, to be more exact, it was written when Moses was a promising young man of 21 years of age, and was doubtless thinking how he should cast his maiden vote, and whether he could not start a system of civil service reform in Pharaoh's court. But the manuscript takes no heed of Moses. It deals with bodily afflictions but they are such as come as the penalties of perverted and abused nature, not such as are inflicted by kings. It is thought to be one of the six Hermetic Books on Medicine named by Clement, of Alexandria, 200 A. D. Its table of contents shows of what it treats. First comes the preparation of medicine, and then follow salves for strengthening and healing the nerves, medicines for the removal of lice and fleas; and, finally, "The secret book of the physician. The science of the beating of the heart and the knowledge of the heart as taught by the priestly physician Nebsecht." To remove illness from the stomach: two remedies are given. First, caraway and goose fat and milk, "boil, stir and eat. Second, pomegranate seed, sycamore fruit and beer, "treat as above." Truly, the nature of the leeches has not changed so much after all during these 3400 years.

MORMON SPECULATIONS.—The general editor of the publications issued by the Religious Tract Society, of London, Rev. Dr. Manning, has just returned to his native heath after a tour of several thousand miles over this country, during which he visited Great Salt Lake City, examined Mormon institutions and interviewed leading Mormons. But he has also met agents of this peculiar people in other parts of the world, and he tells more directly and indirectly about their plans and purposes than most Americans know. The new doctrines and customs that the Latter Day Saints have attempted to introduce in this country have not been appreciated, and they have searched in various parts of the earth for more congenial surroundings. A couple of years ago Dr. Manning, while travelling in the Holy Land, came across a small body of Mormon pilgrims who finally confided to him that they had come to Palestine to "spy out the land" and see whether or not it was suited to the needs of the community which they represented. The official journal of the pashalik of Syria also referred to the contemplated Mormon settlement in the valley of the Jordan, and spoke of the saints in terms of the highest eulogy. There is doubtless the place where Mormonism should perpetuate itself. Mormons and Ishmaelites might eventually come together under one head, which would be a great gain for the Mormons, and thus the New Jerusalem would be founded upon the ruins of the Old, though in a somewhat unlooked for manner.

HE GOT THE WORTH OF HIS MONEY.—Saturday evening, a young man, a stranger in the city, was promenading Michigan avenue when he saw a telescope. He invited the manipulator to turn his instrument toward the moon, stating that he wished to see the mountains, rivers, etc., on its surface, which are supposed to be visible to the eye through a powerful telescope. Unfortunately for the owner of the instrument, the lunar orb had not yet presented itself over the top of Russel House. A happy idea struck him. He would turn the lens toward the illuminated city hall clock dial. Accordingly, while with one hand he explained to the innocent young man the many beauties of Jupiter and its satellites he brought the instrument to bear on the clock with the other. After setting the focus, the young man shut one eye and placing the other eye against the small lens, he prepared himself for a good long gaze at the wondrous and unfathomable mysteries of bright Luna. With mouth wide open he viewed the magnified dial for a long time, when suddenly the bell in the city hall tower struck eight. That was too much for him. Turning his head away from the telescope he paid for the view which he had enjoyed, and taking the owner of the instrument by the hand he addressed him as follows: "Shake, old man. You've got smoked glass at the eclipse, seen steamboats out on the lake through a marine glass, but this beats 'em all. For when you can draw the moon so close as to see the clock and hear it strike, besides, a fellow gets the worth of his money every time."—[Detroit Free Press.

WASHINGTON INFLUENCE.—A delegation of newspaper men, consisting of Wm. B. Shaw, the Nestor of the press, Mr. J. P. Foley, Mr. Wm. J. Murtagh of the Republican, and Mr. Arthur Shepherd were at the Interior Department today to urge the appointment of the latter to the position of superintendent of the patent office building. Secretary Chandler informed them that as yet there was no vacancy in the position, but when there was he would give their recommendation careful consideration.—[Washington Star, 9th.

WHY HE WAS SLAUGHTERED.—At the recent election in Montreal one of the candidates, Mr. Thomas White of the Gazette, was defeated by the Catholic vote, cast against him in consequence of the publication of his portrait in the regalia of a P. G. M. of the Masonic fraternity. The bishop of Three Rivers also circulated a document declaring that though the election of the Liberal—Mr. White is a Conservative, and the Catholic church supports the Conservative party—was to be deplored, the election of a Freemason would be a calamity still more lamentable. Accordingly Mr. White was slaughtered.

Dragging Out Existence.

The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this the cannot be remedied by that genial alterative, tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies deficient stamina, braces the nervous system, and overcomes those bodily irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder imperfect digestion and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication, however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, AND COLDS.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, &C.

The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of Indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF LIVER COMPLAINT, &C.

These Pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver, without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of Consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood; and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner SIXTH and ARCH STREETS, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters of advice must be addressed. nov6-1m Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1875.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

VESSEL BURNED AT SEA.

The Crew Nine Days in Open Boats. —Death of the Captain's Wife from Exposure.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The British bark Senator, from Philadelphia for Panama, with coal, took fire Sept. 14th, off the Straits of Magellan, and burned until the 17th, and was abandoned. The people on board, among whom were the wife of the captain, his two daughters, and the wife of the cook, to the number of nineteen, got into two boats. On the seventh day the wife of the captain died from hunger and cold. On the 25th the boats arrived at Freshwater Bay, and thence reached the colony at Sandy Point.

COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS.

Ten Million Dollars Worth Burned in Brooklyn.

A short time since some mysterious boxes were taken to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. They remained there under close surveillance until Wednesday last, when two strange men arrived and took charge of them. The boxes awakened the curiosity of the workmen in the yard, which was increased when the strangers opened them and disclosed to their gaze new, crisp greenbacks to the amount of ten millions of dollars. The workmen were more astonished, however, when the men took the greenbacks to the foundry and burned them in the furnace. They were the production of a celebrated counterfeiter, and were destroyed by order of the government.

GOVERNMENT ARCHITECTURE.

Suggestions in the Supervising Architect's Report.

Supervising Architect Potter's report recommends more economy in the contracts for cutting stone; also a more economical style of structure of public buildings. He does not think the supervising architect should be expected to design public buildings, and recommends that the designs be obtained from artists not in the government employ, in order that, as his duties are simply supervisory, he should devote his attention to the performance of the multifarious duties of his office. He recommends the sale of the old postoffice and erection of a new custom house and assay office in New York city.

THE REVIVAL EFFORTS IN BROOKLYN.

The Work of Moody and Sankey.

The revival meeting at the Tabernacle this morning was commenced by singing the hymn, "Come, thou fount of every blessing;" after which requests for prayer to the number of one hundred were read by Deacon Hawley. There were nine for churches in various states and a feeble church in the Adirondacks. A number of parties, who confessed themselves backsliders, asked for prayer. Rev. Dr. Buddington offered a fervent prayer, and the hymn "Rock of Ages," was sung. Mr. Moody read the second chapter of Colossians, beginning at the 6th verse, and then took the 6th, 7th, 10th and 12th verses for the subject of his remarks. He said there were just seven things which made a Christian: First, we are to receive Christ; 2d, we are to walk in Him: 3d, we are to receive Him in humility: 4th, we are to bow down in the dust when we take Him; 5th, we are to banish all pride and walk in Him alone: 6th, we are to be rooted and built up in Him. This being rooted up he likened to trees on the mountain, where the roots of trees spread over the rocks, not being able to get into the ground, and finally they were all swept away. And 7th, every Christian should love Christ. People do not appear to understand this rooting in Christ. They go to prayer meeting in the morning and then dance all night. Those who love God must come out from the world. We must be dead to the world, and not let our hearts mingle with the things of the world. What joyful times we would then have. After the singing of a hymn by Mr. Sankey, Mr. Moody announced that the meeting would be opened for prayer and short remarks. Among those who said they had been converted, was a Buffalo policeman.

The Brooklyn Rink was another scene of crowding this evening. Among the clergymen present, seated on the platform, were Bishops Andrews and Havens. A detachment of sailors from the marine hospital were present. Moody's sermon was on hell.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UTAH TERRITORY.

A Mormon Decided to be a Competent Juryman.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Nov. 11.

A question was raised in the third district court on Monday, as to the competency of James Johnson, a Mormon, to serve as a juryman in a suit of a non-Mormon against a Mormon, the claims being made that he would be biased in favor of a fellow churchman; also that he would be influenced by the fact that the common council, consisting of Mormons, had appropriated money to defend the case. Many witnesses, among them some of the leading members of the Mormon church, also a number of apostate Mormons were examined as to the extent of the influence or counsel brought to bear upon jurymen. Judge Boreman yesterday overruled the challenge of the jurymen, deciding that no evidence had been given showing that a Mormon juryman had in any case been instructed by the church authorities as to the verdict they should give: that although one witness had expressed the opinion that a Mormon would not be an impartial witness when the interest of the church was at stake, and that he believed if a Mormon juror believed Brigham Young wanted a juryman to take a given course, that would be the course that he would take independent of his own conviction, there was no evidence that it had been done, or that the juryman objected to, was under any influence outside of the court.

THE WHISKEY FRAUDS.

More Indictments in St. Louis.—Fraudulent Practices in Cincinnati.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.

In the United States district court yesterday, Charles D. Robbins, indicted for conspiracy against the government and removing whiskey which was not stamped, appeared and asked to withdraw the plea of guilty as to two counts in the indictment which was granted. The case of Kellerman, a ganger, and Bronsberg, a distiller, indicted jointly, was called and set for trial Friday next.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.

The United States grand jury, which has been in session for some time past, returned the following indictment yesterday for violation of the internal revenue laws. Howe & Hubbell, H. H. Hamilton, A. Mann & Co., and W. T. Marshall, rectifiers, and L. A. Logan, George J. Leininger and N. O. Williams, gaugers. William M. Green, ex-postmaster at Dayton, Ohio, was also indicted for fraudulent practices in office.

Today John A. Mead, ex-United States gauger, was indicted for making false gaugers' certificates; he was also indicted jointly with Brensberg for conspiring to defraud the government. He appeared and asked to withdraw his plea of not guilty and enter a plea of guilty, which was granted. As in all other similar cases, the sentence of the country—got into the habit of spending more money during the war, when everything was inflated, and that they were but slowly and reluctantly returning to the old economies, which is but natural. The trades unions do not make much headway in Rhode Island, and this, they say, is mainly because there are but few English among the operatives. The greater part of them are French, Canadians and Irish.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1875.

THE FUTURE PROMISING.

The conclusion which I come to after an attentive though necessarily brief survey of the cotton industry, is that it has an extremely promising future, which will be realized as soon as general industry revives. That the mill owners are somewhat too apt to complain of high wages, when they would do better to energetically seek a wider market and use skill and enterprise in trying to adapt their goods to a foreign demand. That when trade is very dull, as it is just now, it is not a good time for operatives to strike. That as soon as industry and trade revive factory wages are likely to rise, because there is not, I believe, an actual surplus of operatives if all the mills were working full time. That a lively demand for cotton goods would at once develop a scarcity of at least some kinds of operatives, and hence a natural and inevitable rise in their wages. And finally, that we are still in this industry in this country at the point where wages will rise or fall, not by the arbitrary intervention or motion of either mill owners or operatives, but by the natural and sufficiently quick operation of the law of supply and demand. The mill-owners could better afford to pay higher wages if they had a full demand for their product than they can afford to pay the present rates at the present time of depression. They cannot afford at any time to oppress their operatives, because these would leave them. They can better afford to work without profit than to stop, because if they stop their machinery deteriorates, a great part of their expenses continues, and they disorganize and lose their trained laboring force. If these propositions are correct, as I believe they are, there does not exist in the relations between the mill owners and their operatives in this country such a condition of unlimited power on the one side and dependence on the other as would imperil the rights of the operatives or enable their employers to oppress them without risking losses of a kind which they could not afford.

SUPERIORITY OF AMERICAN MANUFACTURES.

American drills and heavy sheetings are gaining in favor in foreign markets, for the reason that they are more honestly made than the English product made for export. Drills and heavy sheetings made in this country from American cotton have used in their fabrication only such an amount of starch upon the warp as is absolutely necessary for weaving. The product of cloth is only from eighty-two to eighty-four pounds for one hundred pounds of cotton. But in England it has been conclusively proved that they use clay, flour, starch and other heavy substances, in combination with some salt to keep them soft, in such quantities as to cause the weight of cloth produced to exceed considerably the weight of cotton used, and the cotton used is itself inferior to our own. Adroit and unscrupulous English traders have attempted to keep American goods out of the China and South American markets by copying the styles and the names, marks and tickets used by our manufacturers, and applying these to goods of English manufacture which shrink thirty-three per cent. in weight upon the first washing. I have been shown some samples of such English "export" cotton sheeting which have shrunk more than thirty-three per cent. on the first washing. But these goods are losing their popularity abroad. For instance, it is known that German houses in London, engaged in the African trade, have lately received letters from their correspondents, asking them to procure American goods, because their superior quality gives them the preference in their market.

Nor is this all. Goods made in England for home use are honestly made and of good quality. But such goods are now selling at retail in England at considerably higher prices than the same class of goods bring here. A muslin of the same kind as the Wamsutta, no finer, no heavier and not as well bleached, is worth now in England, I am assured, and sells there, at over eight pence per yard, of sixteen cents currency, while the Wamsutta, will not bring here over thirteen cents at retail. Finally, no cotton manufacturer will deny that the greater number of the mills can easily be used to make precisely the goods which we can afford to export to foreign markets, and which we could just now make at such prices as to more or less command those markets. Why, then, is not this done?

"I never sot my mind to writin' poetry till two years ago," said a young ruralist, tilting back in a grocery chair; "but the minute I took to goin' with that Johnson girl, by gosh! I couldn't help it."

FIRE ALARM REGULATIONS.

To send out an alarm.

Any person who discovers a fire is requested to immediately give the alarm by crying fire, and, going to the box nearest the fire, to send out a general alarm by procuring the key, unlocking the box, and firmly putting the hook down, once only, then closing the door, being careful to see that it is locked, and returning the key.

The person sending out an alarm from a box is requested to remain near said box until the first engine arrives, to direct the firemen to the exact locality of the fire.

Cautions.

Never pull a box if the small gong inside is striking or the machinery of the box is heard running.

Do not pull a box for a fire seen at a distance, or unless you are aware of the locality of a fire.

Key holders are requested not to allow their keys to be taken except by responsible parties.

Bell Ringers.

Bell ringers are engaged to ring the following church bells in connection with the telegraphic alarm:—

The First and North Baptist, United Congregational and Emmanuel with instructions to ring their respective bells for five minutes immediately after the telegraphic alarm has completed its four rounds and then to repeat eight times the number of the box from which the alarm is sent.

Recall.

Nine blows upon the telegraphic alarm bells will indicate that the fire is out and that the services of the department are not required.

Testing the Apparatus.

One stroke on the bells by the telegraphic alarm will simply indicate that the apparatus is in good order.

LOCATION OF BOXES AND KEYS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents; as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
